

MAX FORCE HUSTON TO RESIGN AS G. O. P. CHAIRMAN

SPRING IS HERE WHETHER ANYONE THINKS IT OR NOT

Greeted By Real Winter Weather When It Arrived at 3:30 A. M.

Washington, March 21—(UP)—The weather man got his signals crossed today and instead of spring-like weather the country generally was treated to a midwinter day.

Few realized that spring made her 1930 debut today, but she did—at 3:30 A. M. Even the weather man was unaware of it. Told that this was the first day of spring, he replied in a bored air:

"O, yeah? Well she'll get a reception like the first day of winter." A survey of the country indicated he was right.

A cold wave held the west and northwest in its grasp. From 26 below in Manitoba, Canada, the thermometer rose only slightly through Montana, Wyoming, North Dakota, Minnesota, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, and Ohio. At Chicago it registered about 20 degrees above, but was due to drop more tonight.

Better In East

East of the Appalachian Mountains, from New York to the Carolinas, the weather appeared more favorable. Temperatures of from 60 to 75 and higher were scheduled along the Atlantic seaboard. But the spring-like warmth was not due to last. Tonight will see a sharp drop, with much colder weather in prospect for Saturday and Sunday.

Only in the south, where reports circulate claim everlasting sunshine, was the new season ushered in in the proper manner. The western cold wave failed to penetrate the south, usual March 21 temperatures prevailing throughout South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and in the southwest.

New York, March 21—(UP)—Spring is here but it's a question of whether one believes the sun or the weather man.

Officially, however, the sun returned to the northern hemisphere at exactly 3:30 A. M. today, after an absence of six months. Crossing the Equator directly over the Indian Ocean 500 miles east of the African coast, and extending its beams further on, it announced the opening of that annual influx of straw hats and asparagus.

It was a bit cool here but that shortcoming was overshadowed by a wealth of contrary evidence.

Circus press agents and robins chirped together; Greenwidge Village was awakened by a wealth of hurdy gurdys; wild geese were seen flying north by someone who could see above the skyscrapers; parkbenches became sleeping quarters; and 30 Boy Scouts entered the "wilds" of midtown Central Park in search of further evidence.

First Arrests Since War In This Village

Freeport, Ohio, March 21—(AP)—Freeport, the Ohio village which had often been cited as a model law observing community, has had its first arrests since the World War.

Two men, accused of running 60 gallons of liquor through the village, were apprehended and today were held in the jail which village council had been attempting to dispose of in recent months.

Mayor Jesse H. Jenkins first brought Freeport's reputation into national prominence when he sent members of the council home to get their Sunday clothes. The mayor insisted that the village "dads" appear in their best when transacting public business.

Owing to the fact that the village has been without crime for more than 12 years the village council overlooked the fact that no ordinance covering liquor violations had been passed. Now they are confronted with the problem of how to prosecute the alleged liquor runners.

Under the Ohio law only municipalities that have ordinances are permitted to participate in fines assessed for liquor violations.

Drys Ask More Time To Present Argument

Washington, Mar. 21—(AP)—The united dry forces of America will continue their intensive defense of national prohibition next week with the House Judiciary committee resuming its hearings on proposals that the eighteenth amendment be repealed.

Additional time has been requested by the prohibitionists—a half a day of the seven days originally allotted them remains—and the committee will accede to their wishes.

The hearings will be taken up again on Wednesday following the policy of the committee in holding sessions on Wednesday and Thursday of each week. The drys have not yet made known who they will present as witnesses.

Capone Gave Self Up In Chicago Today

Grand Opera Makes Debut In Overalls

Berlin, March 21—(AP)—Grand opera in overalls made its debut at the Civic Opera House last night when Max Brand's "Machinist Hopkins" was shown to the press.

The theme of the opera is the machine's conquest of man. It begins and ends in a factory amid whirling wheels, gasping pistons, clanking shafts and a final soprano aria sung by an electric switchboard which personifies the power behind the machinery.

The players are dwarfed by a huge piece of machinery which not only plays the principal part but to all intents and purposes signs the principal role.

FINAL PLEA IS MADE IN DOHENY BRIBERY TRIAL

Case Drawing Rapidly To Its Close This Afternoon

Washington, Mar. 21—(AP)—The trial of Edward L. Doheny on a charge of bribery drew near its end today with Frank Hogan for the defense making a ringing plea for the acquittal of the 73-year-old multimillionaire.

The courtroom was packed and long lines of persons waited outside in the hope of admittance. Doheny sat at the counsel table with his back to the spectators. He listened attentively while Hogan asserted that all the evidence showed that the $100,000 that Doheny gave to Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, was simply a loan from a wealthy man to an old friend in need.

Fall has been convicted on a charge of receiving a bribe from Doheny but the latter seemed placid and assured as Hogan reviewed the details surrounding the contract to build oil storage tanks for the Navy at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

This contract, which finally resulted in the lease of the Elk Hills naval oil reserve to a Doheny company, gave a concern headed by the wealthy oil man preference to the Elk Hills lands. The government charges that Doheny and Fall carried on the Pearl Harbor negotiations with a view to giving the Elk Hills lease to Doheny interests.

Doheny bowed his head during the morning session when Hogan mentioned his dead son, Edward L. Doheny, Jr., who drew the check for $100,000 that was given to Fall.

The wealthy oil man seemed grief-stricken as the defense attorney told of young Doheny's death and asked if the oil man would have made his son a party to the transaction if the money given Fall had been a bribe.

During his plea, Hogan picked up a note that Fall gave Doheny for the money and asked:

"Have you ever in your life known of a note being given for a bribe?"

Sterling Man Gets Into Trouble Here

Lee Eubank of Sterling was arrested this morning about 2 o'clock, following a reported altercation at the Eastman cafe, where Officers Bohnstiel, Glessner and Kelly were summoned after the big plate glass window had been broken. It was reported that Eubank created a disturbance and was ordered out of the restaurant, but returned shortly afterward. He was said to have been ordered to leave a second time, and was reluctant about going. Earl Matthews, night manager at the restaurant, was attempting to assist Eubank to the door when the hall tree was overturned and broke the big plate glass window.

Eubank was arrested and taken to the police station where a charge of disorderly conduct was preferred. Justice J. O. Shanley continued the case until March 31, and A. M. Smith of this city furnished bonds in the sum of $400 assuring Eubank's appearance here on that date.

STATE RETURNS RESOLUTION FOR GAS-TAX HI-WAY

Opposition to Decision Of Supervisors Said To Have Appeared

The resolution adopted at last week's meeting of the board of supervisors, mapping out the location for the expenditure of Lee county's refund of the gasoline tax, has been returned from the Department of Public Works and Buildings at Springfield for further recommendation. George Friese of the local state highways force has been appointed consulting engineer and he with County Superintendent of Highways Fred Leake will start Monday morning on an investigation tour along the route of the proposed improvement, checking drainage structures, grading and right of way. At present it is expected that County Superintendent Leake will begin his preliminary survey of the route in about two weeks.

Strong agitation against the type of improvement as well as the location has developed since the action of the board last week in designating about a 22 mile strip of gravel road leading from a point one-half mile north of Compton and running west through Amboy to Harmon. The opposition contends that all of this route is at present of gravel construction.

It was reported today that members of the county board are being confronted with another proposition, which provides that Lee county enter into a program of permanent road construction, cement being favored. This proposal provides that the county enter into a bond issue program and construct concrete highways, over the route decided upon through the center of the county, the bonds to be retired as the county's share of the gasoline tax refund is received each year.

Author Drops Dead In Telephone Booth

Chicago, March 21—(AP)—Harold Morton Kramer, author and lecturer, dropped dead while telephoning in a south side drug store late last night. Letters addressed to the author were found in his pockets, leading to his identification today by friends of the family.

Kramer was born in Frankfurt, Ind., in 1873. He was an officer in the Spanish-American War and served with the U. M. C. A. in France during the World War. His books, which were published from 1906 to 1919, included "Hearts and The Cross," "Gayle Langford," "The Castle of Dawn," "The Chrystals," "The Rugged Way" and "With Seeing Eyes."

RAID ON WINTER HOME OF CAPONE NETTED SIX MEN

But Notorious Gangster Was Not Among Those Taken In Custody

BULLETIN

Chicago, March 21—(UP)—"Scarface Al" Capone unexpectedly walked into the office of Chief of Detectives John Stege at 1:30 this afternoon.

The gang chief, reported variously from almost every point of the compass, surprised Stege as much as he did his own followers and newspaper men who quickly gathered around to find out where he had been since he was released from prison in Philadelphia the first of the week.

Ever since Monday Chicago police have been expecting Capone to appear momentarily on the scene of his triumphs as overlord of the Chicago underworld.

Thus when Capone walked into the Detective Bureau he was an unexpected visitor to the police who had been patrolling the vicinity of his mother's southside residence for several days.

"Scarface Al" seemed to be somewhat thinner than when he left here nearly a year ago for the eastern trip which resulted in his arrest in Philadelphia on charges of carrying concealed weapons.

A pair of gold rimmed spectacles aided in the "disguise" as Capone walked in alone and asked to be escorted to Stege's office. He evidently did not know where Stege's office was.

None of Capone's band of hoodlums apparently was notified of the return of their chief as none of them was in sight.

One hand was bandaged and Capone kept it out of sight in his coat pocket.

"What happened to the hand, Al," the United Press correspondent asked him.

"Nothing much," Capone said. "I burned it on a piece of roast beef."

The "big shot" revealed that he had driven here from Philadelphia in an automobile with Frankie Rio, his cellmate, in prison.

The pair of ex-convicts arrived Wednesday the day most of their Chicago friends and enemies began to suspect that they had fled to Florida.

Since Wednesday, Capone said, he has been staying at the "home of a friend" in Chicago.

He exposed the palm of his hand to convince reporters that he was suffering from a burn instead of a bullet wound.

BULLETIN

Jacksonville, Fla., March 21—(UP)—Search of the Merchants & Miners line passenger boat S. S. Dorchester, which arrived here today from Baltimore, failed to reveal trace of Al Capone, Chicago gangster chief, authorities announced. Capone had been reported aboard the craft.

Miami, Fla., March 21—(UP)—Sheriffs, police chiefs, and scores of reporters tried to run to ground today countless rumors of the whereabouts of Alphonse (Scarface) Capone, elusive beer baron of Chicago.

About the most tangible news of Capone was that he was believed to be in hiding somewhere in southeast Florida.

There was a major development in the man-hunt, however, as several of his satellites were at liberty under bond on various charges ranging from suspicion of vagrancy to possession of liquor.

Sheriff M. P. "Pop" Lehman of Dade county led 20 aides and several Miami Beach policemen in a spectacular raid upon Capone's winter residence here late yesterday. Every one in sight was arrested. Frank Wharten, City Manager of Miami, characterized the procedure "a grand stand play" and refused co-operation of Miami police.

Eight sacks of liquor—three smashed—were confiscated. Then the raiding party took into custody men who gave the names of Albert Capone, John Capone, James Vincent, Louis Cowen, Frank Newman and L. J. Brannan. None had guns. No resistance was offered.

Bond was arraigned before Judge H. F. Atkinson last night. They kept their own counsel, but Albert Capone, and his older brother, John, laughed when the former remarked: "We'll soon have a family reunion."

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

CLINTON TEAM HERE.

The Clinton All-Stars basketball team will come to Dixon this evening to meet the local Moose team in a game to be played on roller skates at the Moose hall at 7:30. Two picked Dixon teams will appear in a preliminary game.

Raymond Chase of this city was arrested late yesterday afternoon by Clinton, Iowa, police on a charge of child abandonment. Sheriff Ward Miller went to Clinton last evening and brought Chase back to Dixon where he was placed in the county jail to await a hearing before County Judge William Leech.

EXPLORATIONS END HERE.

Earl Mueller, aged 16, and Maurice Lamb, 17, of Milwaukee, Wis., left their home to explore the central west and landed in Dixon last evening, their funds exhausted and hungry and cold. Officer Gilbert Glessner took the wayward pair to the police station where they are being held awaiting the arrival of Mueller's father who will return them to Milwaukee.

CONFERRED ON ROADS.

Supervisor William Sandrock, Highway Commissioner L. B. Miller and Town Clerk August Stunkel of Reynolds township, were in Dixon this morning conferring with County Superintendent of Highways Fred W. Leake. The Reynolds township officials disposed of $10,000 worth of bonds, the proceeds of which will be used in a road graveling program this year.

Thomas Harvey of this city was arrested last evening by Officers Seagren and Brantner on a warrant issued out of the court of Judge Stocke of Sterling charging the Dixon man with the issuance of a worthless check. He was taken to the county jail and Deputy Sheriff Stittles of Sterling came to Dixon last evening and took him back to Whiteside county.

HOUSE WAS RANSACKED.

The home of Dr. A. W. Chandler, 306 North Jefferson avenue, was entered during his absence on a trip to Florida and partially ransacked. It has been reported to the police. A basement window was broken and two cheap revolvers and a small electric clock were all of the articles that are reported missing. The police are conducting an investigation and believe that the robbery was the work of boys.

CASE NOLLE PROSSED.

The charge of assault and battery preferred against J. M. Lovett, former Dixon resident, but recently of Amboy, was nolle prossed in Justice George E. Hines court at Amboy yesterday, the motion being made by State's Attorney Mark C. Keller. Lovett was charged with having assaulted Officer Wayne Smith, night member of the Amboy police force several days ago.

THREE CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH IN SCHOOL BLAZE

A Boy's Desire To Assist Teacher Resulted In Awful Tragedy

Tyron, Okla., March 21—(UP)—Eighty little folk who live in the district about the heap of ashes that until yesterday was the Pleasant Valley school met in solemn groups today to plan joint attendance at the funerals of three classmates who perished in the flames.

The lads and Misses of 7 and 8 went about their task almost like grownups. They were years older in experience, it seemed, having seen terror, death and heroism crowded into a half hour of horror late yesterday when their school house went up in a blaze, started when kerosene was thrown on the embers in a stove.

When the funerals will be held and whether they will be conducted as a joint service will not be known until parents of Freddy Eaton, 8; Granville Murray, 6, and Lawanda Doddrell, 7, communicate with school officials.

It was Freddy Eaton's mannish desire to "help teacher" that brought on the tragic fire. He decided to rekindle the fire so it would not be so chilly in the little frame school house. Apparently he thought all the coals had cooled for he poured the can of kerosene into the stove with one flourish.

His gesture was echoed with a boom and a spurt of fire. The boy was turned into a mass of flames and the blaze leaped to the circle of pupils seated about the stove.

Terror stricken, the children bolted for the two exits before their instructors Mrs. Reese Carpenter and Miss Dinita Smith, could stop them. A jam was created at both doors, the screaming children fighting one another in an attempt to get out.

Order was reestablished by the two teachers, one of whom had stationed herself at the rear door, the other going to the windows where she helped the students over the ledges. Bots were the last to leave the burning building.

Volunteer fire fighters and residents of Tyron arrived at the building to find it a smoldering mass.

Toastmasters Held Election Last Eve

The Toastmaster's Club held an exceptionally peppy meeting last evening. An excellent supper was followed by some especially vigorous singing. The President, who ended his term of office at this meeting, was assailed by numerous motions and discussions of them. The chairman of the program committee, Dr. Raymond E. Worsley, had cleverly incorporated the election of new officers in his program and campaign speeches were made by various members in favor of other candidates. The election resulted in the selection of a board of directors consisting of Orville Smith, C. A. Buchner, F. C. Sproul, James Cleidon and Dr. Kenyon B. Segner. The officers elected for the next six months were Orville Smith, President; C. A. Buchner, Vice President; Dr. Kenyon B. Segner, Secretary, and F. C. Sproul, Treasurer. A new program committee was appointed immediately by the new president. Plans were made for a very active group of meetings to be held before warm weather sets in. The meeting closed after a most exciting and amusing exchange of wits in parliamentary practice.

Think Woman Found On Tracks Murdered

Kentland, Ind., March 21—(AP)—Coroner Allan W. Kenoyer said today that the discovery of a carving knife two bloodstained handkerchiefs and two bottles of poison near the railroad tracks where the body of Mrs. Brooks Narvaydis was found Tuesday led him to believe she had been murdered and her body put on the tracks.

The coroner said the woman's body had been so badly mangled when a train ran over it that it was impossible to determine how she had been killed. He said he was investigating the report that Mrs. Narvaydis was carrying $1,000 when she left the farm where she was employed as a cook.

Sheriff J. D. Bartholomew announced he would question four men who had been living at the farm, about three miles from the place where her body was found.

In the United States there are now more than 20,500 students in medical colleges which are accredited by the American Medical Association.

His Girl And Car Disappear In Night

Springfield, Ill., March 21—(UP)—Charles Sokolis nursed a bruised heart today while police maintained a vigilant watch for his sweetheart of eight years' standing.

Charles and his girl went motoring last night and they parked their car, he said, about two miles from here while a romantic moon watched them plan a future.

An argument ensued, according to Sokolis and his sweetheart left the car and started back to town. Charles said he followed afoot but was unable to find her in the darkness.

When he returned for his car, he said, it was gone and he walked two miles to town.

He reported both girl and automobile "missing."

OFFICIALS ARE INCREDULOUS OF STORY OF GIRL

Investigate An Alleged Attempt To Burn Girl To Death

Fairfield, Tex., March 21—(AP)—Texas Rangers today joined with county officers in an attempt to solve an alleged attempt to murder Miss Wilma Jones, 23, by burning the girl in her hotel room, while G. S. Moore, Oakwood, Tex., business man, charged with the assault, continued to reiterate his innocence.

Plainly incredulous of the girl's story of being tied on her bed by an unidentified man, who then set fire to the mattress, two Texas Rangers and Sheriff J. H. Eubanks last night questioned Miss Jones, who was uninjured, at some length. Later officers said three possible unannounced theories in the case were being investigated.

Miss Jones had been called here to answer charges of forging Moore's name to several checks. She admitted she had affixed the man's signature to checks, but said the action was taken with his consent. Her home is at Buffalo, Tex., where she is housekeeper for her father and a brother.

The alleged attack victim was rescued from her room late Wednesday night by Joe Green, proprietor of the hotel in which she was staying.

Puzzling the investigators was the fact that the girl was not burned, that a guest in an adjoining room was awake and heard no disturbance, and testimony by the hotel proprietor and his wife that creaking of the front door of the hostelry always awakened them when anyone entered or departed. They said they heard no noise until aroused by Miss Jones, who pounded on the floor.

Miss Jones underwent an operation in a hospital at Teague a few weeks ago, from which she had not fully recovered.

The girl was hidden away last night by officers who said they would be careful that no attempts were made on her life.

Huckins Convicted Of Fraud Yesterday

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, March 21—(AP)—The state today had won its first major battle in its attempt to prove that George E. Huckins conducted a fraudulent business promising 26 and 52 per cent returns.

Breaking a 25 hour deadlock, a jury of ten men and two women in District Court here yesterday afternoon found him guilty of obtaining $300 from Emil Levens, former American League baseball player, through false pretenses.

With ten days allotted by Judge F. O. Ellison, a motion for a new trial will be filed. Walter J. Barnegrove, Huckins' attorney said. Should that be denied, the case will be appealed to the Iowa Supreme Court, he asserted.

Huckins faces a maximum sentence of seven years' imprisonment and a $5,000 fine. The minimum is one year in jail. Sentence will not be passed, however, until motion for a new trial has been acted upon.

Walgreen Will Open Another Loop Store

The Chicago Tribune of Wednesday stated that "another loop drug store is announced for the ever-growing chain of Walgreen establishments of going to press. No. 414 will be at 130-32 West Madison street, east of the corner, in the new One La Salle Street building. The lease is for a fifteen year term and gives the lessee space equal to two standard size stores of that building."

DISCLOSURES OF LOBBYING WORKS ARE DISQUIETING

His Retention On National Committee May Influence Spring Elections

Washington, March 21—(AP)—An ultimate decision to resign as Chairman of the Republican National Committee was expected of Claudius H. Huston as administration and party circles today considered the testimony brought out in his case before Senate Lobby committee.

He has announced that he will stick to his post. Any further decision on his part it was believed in quarters close to the situation, would await the conclusion of the hearings and the report of Senator Caraway's investigating group.

President Hoover declined to comment and no indication came from the White House as to the sentiment of the Chief Executive. The President, however, was known to be watching the situation carefully and keeping in close touch with party leaders.

Congressional leaders, too, were maintaining a close watch upon the case. Huston is popular at the Capitol and his friends there are demanding that he be given a full hearing before passing judgment. There are some among the legislators, however, who believe he should resign.

Elections Hold Interest

With one-third of the Senate and the entire membership of the House up for election in the fall, there is particular interest in the Huston case, especially among those most concerned, the Republican Senators and Representatives who are running for re-election.

MUSIC MASTERS

MADE a little song at dawn
But the west wind thrummed
The trees
And I found how harsh my own
Notes were
While listening to these.

I made a little song at dusk
For a wood-thrush sang his lay
And when I heard his rapturous
Voice
I threw my song away.

Teach me your language, soothing
Purs
And the song the soft winds bring.
Teach me your melody, brown thrush
Sweet bird teach me to sing!

Child's Home Training Key to School Attitude

Washington—(AP)—Homes are often responsible for the aversion which some children feel toward school and the demands in the opinion Mrs. A. H. Reeve of Philadelphia, president of the International Federation of Home and School.

"Children are threatened at home with visits to the doctor and dentist if they don't behave," says Mrs. Reeve. "A fear of physical examinations in the school thus grows in them."

"Many children, too, are forced into manual work for which they are not fitted because the parents have a fond vision of the child as a professional type of some kind when he grows up."

Mrs. Reeve is a member of President Hoover's school child committee working with the White House conference on child health and protection.

Miss Edwards Entertained at Dinner

Miss Helen Edwards was hostess at a delightful five course dinner on Monday evening at her home, entertaining a company of eight friends preceding the dance at the Masonic Temple. Miss Nina Strawn, Cyril Tyne and Melvin Walden of Sterling were out of town guests. After dinner all attended the O. E. S. dancing party at the Temple, completing a most enjoyable evening.

LARK BIRD OF SWEET-EST SONG—

It is said the larks of Scotland are the sweetest singing birds of earth. No piece of mechanism that man has ever made has the soft, sweet, glorious music in it that the lark's throat has. When the farmers of Scotland walk out early in the morning they flush the larks from the grass and as they rise they sing, and as they sing they circle and higher and higher they go, circling as they sing, until at last the notes of their voices die out in the sweet strains that earth ever listened to.

Motive for Lord Balfour's Bachelorhood

London, March 21—(AP)—Tragic death of his fiancée the only woman he ever loved, just before presentation of the ring was said by the Daily Mail today to have motivated Lord Balfour's live-long bachelorhood, only ended Wednesday with his death at the age of 81.

The Mail, which said its information came from a close friend of the dead statesman explained that when Balfour was about 27 years old he fell in love with the honorable Miss Lytton, sister of the late Viscount Cobham. He bought a ring to seal the engagement between them but she died suddenly while he was on his way to present it.

Lord Balfour's body was dispatched last night from Woking, Surrey, where he died at the home of his brother, Gerald Balfour, who succeeds to the title, to Scotland for burial.

Beautiful Wedding At Methodist Church; Randall-Thomas Rites

A beautiful spring wedding was solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal church in Dixon, with the pastor, Reverend A. Turley Stephenson, reading the impressive service which united the lives of Miss Genevieve Randall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Randall, 121 Upham Place, Dixon, and Crawford A. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thomas of Sterling.

The ushers, Richard Thomas of Sterling, and Lucian Strubinger, seated the two hundred or more invited guests in the auditorium of the church, which was in gala attire, the galleries and balconies being filled with interested spectators. The altar and chancel were effectively banked with green, palms and ferns, relieved with lovely pink and orchid spring flowers, tall orchid tapers shedding a subdued glow over the members of the bridal party as they assumed their places for the ceremony.

Mrs. Nathan Morrill, one of Dixon's favorite musicians, played a program of delightful nuptial music preceding the ceremony, including, "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," and then softly entering the bride and groom.

Five-year-old Frances Satterlee, niece of the bride, wore a dainty pink frock, and carried the ring in the heart of a large American Beauty rose, following the ushers.

Miss Helen Nickey of Glen Ellyn was maid of honor and wore a charming gown of turquoise blue satin, with an overdress of turquoise silk dotted net, made in period style, with long full skirt, with a huge chou of the net at one side, the gown being decollete. Short puffed sleeves and slippers in the same hue of the gown were noted. A bouquet of bright spring flowers was carried on her arm. Miss Frances Edwards wore an effective evening gown in peach taffeta and Mrs. Charles Redebough wore a lovely gown in opaline lace flat crepe. They were the bridesmaids, and carried arm bouquets of pink, yellow and orchid spring-time flowers.

The bride on the arm of her father, E. J. Randall, who gave her in marriage, wore a beautiful high-necked, long sleeved gown of white chiffon, the long skirt falling in simple graceful lines, silk lace forming the main portion of the skirt. A belt at the waistline was held by a silver buckle. She wore a long veil of tulle, falling from a close fitting cap of tulle and lace. White slippers and rose beige hose completed the very bride-like toilette. Her flowers were bride's roses and white sweet peas and lilies of the valley in a shower bouquet.

After the beautiful service was read by Dr. Stephenson while Mrs. Morrill softly improvised and played "Sweet Mystery of Life," the bridal party left the altar to the joyful strains of the Mendelssohn recessional. In the basement of the church, which was beautifully decorated in yellow tapers and yellow flowers, a wedding collation was served as the bride and bridegroom received the congratulations of their hosts of friends. Receiving with them were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Randall, parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thomas of Sterling, parents of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Satterlee, of Wilmette. Mrs. Satterlee is the bride's sister, formerly Miss Lucille Randall, of Ashton and Dixon. Serving the guests were Miss Mila Wolnik and Miss Carlotta Carroll.

Crawford Thomas is a most estimable young man, genial and frank and for the past winter has ably filled the position of organist at the Methodist church, where both he and his bride are active in the religious and social life. He is affiliated with the Illinois Northern Utilities Co. Mrs. Thomas has been employed in the offices of the Reynolds Wire Co. in Dixon, having attended the Ashton schools and also attended Cornell College at Mt. Vernon, Ia. She has many friends here who join those of Mr. Thomas in extending to them best wishes for happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left on a wedding trip to last but a few days. She wore traveling one of the new spring suits. On their return to the city they expect to be at home to their friend at 211 Everett street.

Among the out-of-town guests in attendance at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Nickey, Mrs. Stewart Nickey and Miss Helen Nickey, Mrs. Nellie Bentley, Miss Catherine Bentley and Mrs. Charles Mesley, all of Glen Ellyn; the O. G. Satterlee and daughter, of Wilmette; and a num-

DREDGING THE RIVER.

The Telegraph regrets that the Illinois Northern Utilities Company and the city authorities could not reach a harmonious agreement on the proposed dredging project of the power company. We hope there may yet be some common ground on which they can adjust their differences. It seems that there must be a chance for a compromise in this matter and we believe it is very important to Dixon for several reasons.

Of course the I. N. U. expects to create more power and to realize a financial benefit or the company would not make the expensive improvement. Well, the more power they create the better. Dixon is or should be very much interested in the prosperous development of this great company which has made its headquarters here, maintains large payrolls, pays big taxes and is one of Dixon's greatest assets.

The Telegraph agrees with the city authorities that the natural beauty of Rock River must be preserved and safeguarded, and furthermore, this dredging work which is designed to provide more power for private enterprise should not result in any great added expense to the city such as would occur if the water level were lowered enough to expose sewer outlets, etc.

However, there are certain benefits which the city would enjoy from the dredging of a deep channel in the river below the dam which the city should secure if possible without material damage to the beauty of the stream. The government engineers say the proposed work would be a great help in the control of floods, preventing of ice gorges, etc. Every few years Dixon experiences flood waters which inundate large areas on both banks of the river below the dam, causing serious damage and much inconvenience to residents of the affected areas. Ice gorges are a menace to the bridges.

Government engineers also say that the dredging proposed by the I. N. U. is a part of the plan the government has contemplated for years and would be a big step toward making the river navigable from the Dixon dam to the Hennepin canal, therefore giving us direct connection with the inland waterway system and every seaport in the world. (The I. N. U. plans only call for a four-foot depth where as the government specifications require about twice as much, but it is progress in the right direction and the I. N. U. work would bring navigation to a point where only a small expenditure by the government would complete the job).

All of this, which would be of obvious benefit to the city, Dixon would get at the expense of someone else. It is worth considering, is it not?

CLUTCHING AT TECHNICALITIES.

The lengths to which a certain type of lawyer will go in his hunt for unimportant technicalities is well illustrated in a recent Ohio criminal case.

A councilman in a certain city was convicted of accepting a bribe. His attorneys carried an appeal to the state supreme court. And listen to this:

One of the grounds on which they based their appeal was this: the indictment alleged that the councilman had "accepted money" from a man who sought his favor. This, said the lawyers, was not true—the councilman had accepted a check, they said, was not "money"—and therefore the conviction ought not to stand.

Very properly, the supreme court refused to pay any attention to such pettifoggery. But the case illustrates the way in which an unimportant technicality will be seized on, by some lawyers, in an effort to advance a client's cause. And that is one reason for the current disrespect for law which distresses our lawyers so mightily.

The racketeer who was shot and killed when he sought to collect a tribute from a New York baker went to the wrong place for dough, it seems.

And it is well to remind the outlaw that it is safer to get a bun at a speakeasy than at a bakery.

Before going to the baker's for tribute gangsters should know which side their bread is buttered on.

Stiff collars are ordered by fashion for the man at work. If the ladies must wear those long dresses, let the males suffer, too.

A Chicago woman has been enjoined from annoying her husband. The Chicago police are considering calling in S. S. Van Dine to find out how that order can be enforced.

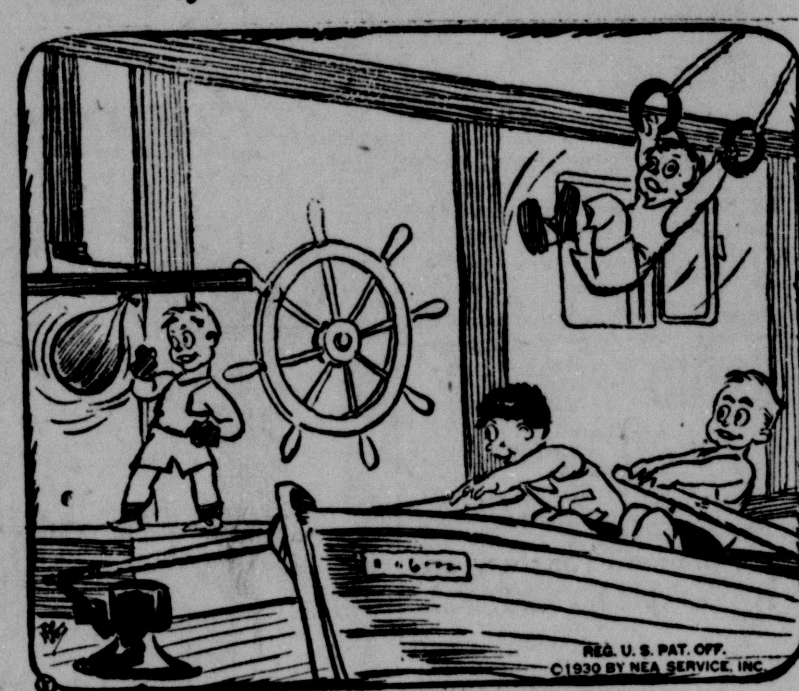

Those 32,000 speakeasies in New York ought to offer a great opportunity for Senator Brookhart to speak loudly.

To understand a modern young lady's vocabulary it is necessary to know that "cute" may describe a sports roadster, a bridge prize, a dance step, a baby, a dog or Rudy Vallee.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tingles jumped up with the dawn and wondered just how far they'd gone. The ship was calmly sliding through the water far at sea. Said Scouty, "Come lads, hurry now. We'll go up to the big ship's bow and watch the pretty sun rise. It will be a sight to see."

They dressed as quickly as they could and Clowny said, "We're getting good. We used to feel lazy, but we're full of pep these days." Then out on deck they promptly ran and joined the friendly Travel Man. He took them to a handy spot where they could stand and gaze.

The sun was like a ball of fire. It slowly lifted higher and higher. Then came the call for breakfast and the Tingles cried, "Hurray!" They sat down to a tasty meal and Copy said, "How good I feel. This sort of breakfast's just the thing to start another day."

When they had eaten all they could the captain said, "If you'll be good I'll take you to a spacious room where you can have some fun. It is the gym. Now, come along. Real exercise will make you strong. You'll be surprised when you see all the things that can be done."

Oh my, oh my, the gym was great. The Tingles didn't hesitate, but started doing this and that till they began to puff. Wee Carpy put on boxing gloves and Clowny got a couple of shoves. "Hey! Cut it out!" cried Clowny. "There's no reason to get rough."

The others punched the bag a bit and showed real pep in doing it. Strong Scouty turned some handspings. They all played for 'bout an hour. Then Mister Travel Man came in and shouted with a friendly grin, "You've had enough, my little friends. Come now, we'll take a shower."

DAILY LENTEN THOUGHT

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.

Editor of The Congregationalist

There is a tendency to think of Christian faith too much in terms of intellectual assent and too little in terms of attitude of heart. Jesus drew a very sharp distinction between those who called him "Lord,

Lord" and who did not do the things that He said, and those who, even when they failed openly to acknowledge Him, really sought to do the things that He taught.

Long ago the writer of Proverbs asserted that a man is as he thinks in his heart, and not as he professes to be. Paul, also interpreting the meaning of Christian faith experience, reminds us that "if any man have not the spirit of Christ, he is none of His."

The psalmist said, "the fool has said in his heart, there is no God." Men say a great deal sometimes that they do not mean.

Our words are hasty and thoughtless, and our moods are often rebellious, and in the gloom of doubt, but the wise man cannot long deny in his heart the reality of that goodness and righteousness with which we associate the name of God. It is in our hearts, in our practical lives and conduct, that we really determine whether we are men of faith or unbelief.

Out of the heart are the issues of life. Heart faith produces grace and goodness.

Him to Glorious Health—
Relates His Happy Ex-

MR. C. E. REED

"I hope that others who suffer as I once did will profit from my experience with Konjola," said Mr. C. E. Reed, chief electrician for the city of Joliet, living at 212 Cora street, Joliet. For several years I was the victim of stomach, kidney and bowel trouble. Food failed to digest and I dreaded meal time. I could not sleep soundly and I was always tired and worn out. Medicines were of no avail whatever.

"I had little faith in Konjola when I first started the treatment but almost at once I began to feel better. As the days passed, my stomach, kidneys, and bowels gradually resumed their normal activity. Today there isn't a trace of my former ailments. I eat, sleep and feel like a different person. What a wonderful thing it is to have glorious health and to Konjola goes all the credit."

Konjola is sold in Dixon, Ill., at FORD HOPKINS DRUG STORE, at 123 W. First St., and by all the towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Good Thoughts for Good People

In order to improve his business, a man must improve his thinking. One who daily brings into his business a sense of honesty, a higher sense of justice, a broader sense of duty, thereby broadens the bounds of his business. One increases his business by increasing to reflect the realities of God toward his fellow-men.

The Christian Science Monitor.

I have said that the problems before us are more than economic. They are in a much greater degree they are moral and spiritual.

Herbert Hoover.

Prosperity is only an instrument to be used, not a deity to be worshipped.

Calvin Coolidge.

There is no honest and true work, tried on with constant and sincere purpose that ever really fails.

Jordan.

If you want to live in this world, you must do the duty of life, knowing the meaning of it, doing your work heartily and yet not absorbed by it, remembering that the one power where you can act is, that all shall be consecrated to Christ and done for his sake.

Alexander MacLaren.

And seek not yet what ye shall eat, what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind. But rather be ye the kingdom of God; and these things shall be added unto you.

NOTHING HELPED HIM—UNTIL HE TRIED GLY-CAS
Rheumatism, Stomach Trouble Quickly Ended by Gly-Cas—Only Medicine to Reach His Case.
"Gly-Cas entirely rid me of twenty years of suffering from rheumatism, stomach trouble and restored me to good health so I can enjoy life more," said Mr. P. Eliason, 193 Pearl St., Galesburg, Illinois.
"I had rheumatism in my legs, arms and shoulders so bad that I could not work, sleep, or rest and I was tired out all of the time," continued Mr. Eliason. "My legs pained me terribly and was so crippled with rheumatism that I could not bend my knees. I also had gas on my stomach, no matter what I ate I would bloat and then it would crowd my heart. I was in a terrible condition and steadily growing worse as I was unable to find anything to help me, then I tried Gly-Cas and it did wonders for me."
"That awful rheumatism with its terrible pain has entirely left me, since I have been taking Gly-Cas, I can now bend my knees and get around with ease, without those awful pains bothering me, but best of all I can go to bed and go to sleep and get my rest and feel like working of a day, now. My stomach trouble has also vanished. I can eat anything I want without suffering any ill effects afterwards, no more gas or bloating, in fact I am in good health once more. I have tried many medicines but never one to compare with Gly-Cas."
Gly-Cas is sold in Dixon at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy, Dixon; W. J. Long West Brooklyn and Franklin Grove, G. S. Ives; Folo, C. R. Clothier; Ashton, G. R. UNMASKING THE CHAIN STORES!
As The "Chains" Grow, Your Jobs Become More Scarce

Workers, harken! It is as proper to combat the master class on the commercial field as on the industrial field.
What good is it to fight them on the industrial field when you surrender to them on the commercial field?
The theory that the chain stores should be encouraged to develop and to conquer all small businesses without a combat is insane.
The concentration and consolidation of large manufacturers and the freeing out of the smaller does not stop the workers from fighting the master class. The class struggle does not end by that—no! It sharpens it if anything, and almost to a point of open conflict.
Is progress retarded by fighting consolidated manufacturing interests? Not at all! The fight against them helps to perfect it and enables the workers eventually to master them.
How, then, can progress be stopped by fighting the chain stores? You must combat and master them too in order to master the industrial magnates.
What would you profit, even if you could double your pay and the cost of living and price of commodities doubled?
That's not all—but due to the rationalization, the speed-up system would become more intense and unemployment would increase within four years from eight million as now to 12 million at least.
It matters not so much if the "chains" deprive the coming generation from becoming a businessman, as only six per cent can become businessmen.
But it matters mostly that the chains help to deprive the coming generation from obtaining a job!
Eighty-five per cent are working men and that's the buying public and the more they get the more they buy.
It matters mostly if the chains cut the wages—speed up the work and cause more unemployment.
On that ground alone should and can they be combatted successfully.
There are two chief main differences in chain stores: one branch deals in food products and makes its profits mostly in retailing. The other branch deals in merchandise which requires manufacturing, and chain stores dealing in merchandise make their big profits mostly on the manufacturing or jobbing.
The retail chain stores all over are used only as a dumping place to dispose of the merchandise in order to enable the chain heads and jobbers to manufacture and job more merchandise.
Chain stores that deal, job or manufacture merchandise for sale thrive on cheap labor. They are the leaders in cutting wages and are in a constant conflict with the workers in

Steel Corporation's Assets Show Decline
New York, March 20.—(UP)—A decline of $153,846,579 in assets of U. S. Steel Corporation may place that company in third position in the country's industries instead of second place which it now holds.
U. S. Steel's pamphlet report for 1929 released today shows assets of $2,286,183,654 compared with $2,442,630,233 at the end of 1928. The reduction was due to heavy write offs.
Steel's report was issued simultaneously with that of General Motors Corporation and showed net earnings equivalent to $21.19 a share on 8,132,840 shares outstanding at the end of 1929, the largest earnings since 1918 when the total was equal to $22.10 a share.
General Motors earnings declined being equivalent to $5.49 against $6.14 in 1928 on 43,500,000 shares of stock outstanding.
Gross sales of U. S. Steel for the year 1929 amounted to $1,493,505,486, while those of General Motors totaled $1,504,404,472.

Seventy-two schools from the eight states have nominated 643 youths to compete in the three tours.

Southampton, Eng.—Phil Scott, the English heavyweight, hoisted his estimate of the number of times Jack Sharkey "fouled" him at Miami to six, upon his arrival here on the Majestic. "I'm going to claim the world title through the British Board of Control," he reiterated, adding that he would "think very seriously before going to America again." The Board of Control is now considering Scott's claims.

Champaign, Ill., March 21—(AP)—

Olney, Bloomington, Beardstown and Peoria Manual were still in the big push for the Illinois state high school basketball championship today. Victors in the closest and most stirring quarter-final round battles in the classics' history.

Yesterday and last night's battles were any team's game right up to the limit. Only eight points separated the total of the four losers from that of the four victors and the large crowd on hand was paid back with thrills.

The blue ribbon fight of the round came between Beardstown and Waterman, a duel which required four overtime periods to decide. With a half a minute to go in the regulation time, Waterman held a 17 to 15 margin over Beardstown only to have Vanders slip through for a goal and dead lock the game at 17—all. For three overtime periods, the teams matched point for point until the fourth attempt when Beardstown spashed through to win 29 to 27.

This is how the teams ended each period:

First quarter: Waterman 6; Beardstown 2.

Second quarter: Waterman, 8; Beardstown 3.

Third period: Waterman, 15; Beardstown 10.

Fourth quarter: Beardstown, 17; Waterman 17.

First overtime: Waterman, 19; Beardstown, 19.

Second overtime: Waterman, 21; Beardstown, 21.

Third overtime: Waterman, 23; Beardstown, 22.

Fourth overtime: Beardstown, 23; Waterman, 27.

Second Close Game.

The second closest game was the 29 to 19 victory of Bloomington over Abingdon. Bloomington went into the final quarter with a 20 to 10 lead that looked big enough, but Abingdon refused to stay laced without a heroic fight. They came back with a hard attack in the final period, scoring nine points and holding Bloomington scoreless but the game ended just in time to save Bloomington.

Led by Captain John Lenwald, a six foot center, Olney won a hard fight from Carbondale, southern Illinois representatives. Carbondale held a 10 to 8 lead at the half but wilted under Olney's fast-breaking offense in the last period.

Atwood fell before Peoria Manual, 18 to 16, the tall Atwood team failed to show the power it did in the district play, but made the strong Peoria team fight all the way.

From the standpoint of their quarter-final round showing, Olney and Beardstown today appeared to be the strongest of the teams in the running. Olney will meet Bloomington in the first semi-final game tonight at 7:30, while Beardstown meets Peoria Manual an hour later.

THREW AWAY CANE AFTER KAVATONE GOT IN ITS WORK

Woman Tells How She Got First Rest and Relief from Pain in 20 Years.

"Why is it that Kavatore bring relief in so many cases where other things have failed?" is a question frequently asked of the Kavatore Man. In answering this oft repeated question, the Kavatore Man states that this preparation Kavatore is so made and contains such ingredients that it goes to the very seat and source of the ills and ailments incident to the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels such as rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness, constipation, and such like ailments.

MRS. JAMES CRAFT

From far and wide people call at the store and explain to the Kavatore Man their experiences in the hope that others who suffer may be benefited. Just a few days ago a letter, typical of many, was received by the Kavatore Man from Mrs. James Craft, who lives at Rural Route 2, Brooklyn, Michigan, but for more than 50 years was a resident of Jackson, Michigan. In her letter Mrs. Craft said: "For more than 20 years I have suffered from neuritis. Many times the pains would be so bad that I could not sit or lie still. I would have dizzy spells so bad that it finally became necessary for me to use canes to hold myself up on my feet. Also I had pains in my back so severe that at times they would almost take my breath away. As I was 75 years old on December 21st last year, I feared that nothing I could find would bring me much relief. Last Spring I began reading about Kavatore and what it had done for people in Jackson, Michigan. Many of the people who told their experience through the paper I knew and I knew about their ailments. Therefore it occurred to me that if Kavatore would do so much for them, there might also be hope for me. Before I had taken the first bottle of Kavatore I told my family that I knew it was the medicine for me. I kept right on with the treatment and now all my aches and pains are gone and I can eat anything I want without the least stomach trouble and whereas before I was terribly nervous, now I just don't seem to have any nerves. It is indeed a great pleasure for me to recommend to others such a great medicine.

Kavatore is made from a combination of 36 ingredients of which 24 are purely vegetable. It contains no alcohol, opiates, narcotics or harmful drugs of any kind, but nature in eliminating poisons and impurities from the system and in reviving and rejuvenating the functioning organs of the body. The Kavatore Man is located at FORD HOPKINS CO., DIXON, ILL., where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this sensational preparation. The Kavatore Man is at the store primarily to explain his product and be of any service that he can and everyone is cordially invited to call at the store, meet the Kavatore Man and hear the story of this great medicine that in one short year has become the sensation of the medical world.

B. M. BLOODWORTH, EDITOR
OF THE DECATUR (ALABAMA)
DAILY, SAYS:

That despite the fact that this is the time of the year when we all growl, more or less, about payment of the income tax, it remains one of the fairest forms of taxation we have. Sometimes I wonder if it would not be better to eliminate all other forms of taxes and use income tax solely to obtain revenue for national, state, county and municipal expense.

Consider the case of two mechanics. Both are employed in the same shop, both draw the same wages. One is thrifty and saving and accumulates property. On that property he pays taxes. The other mechanic is shiftless and fails to save anything. He pays little or nothing in taxes.

UNDER THE PRESENT SYSTEM WE PENALIZE THRIFT. IS THAT GOOD FOR THE COMMUNITY? DOES THAT ENCOURAGE BET-TER CITIZENSHIP—OR DOESN'T IT?

MAIL COURTSHIP

Red Lion—Citizens of this town owe Dr. John Miller Hyson 50 years back pay, but he doesn't want it. He has served as treasurer of Red Lion for that time, and during that interval has never been opposed for office when up for election. He is known as the "father" of the town.

Daily Health Talk

AS THE TWIG IS BENT

By Felix J. Underwood, M. D.
Jackson, Mississippi

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. The headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

One of the most hopeful modern phases of health activities is the movement to promote the right mental and physical habits during childhood. The child, to be healthy, must not only have a body free from physical defects but must be trained to acquire the right habits of thought and action in order to face every day problems of life happily and normally. Thus equipped he will become an adult who may adapt himself in a well balanced manner to the daily tasks of living which confront him.

There seems to be a tendency in the minds of the public to divide the child's physical, intellectual, and emotional existence into three separate entities. This is a great error. These three attributes are closely interwoven one with the other. Intellectual processes are stimulated by physical health and emotional stability.

It is also possible during this early period of the child's life to recognize and most easily understand and treat defects which might later handicap him as an adult. Adequate training in habits of health will guard his health, and equally careful guidance of the mind will prevent the personality from becoming warped or distorted and so rendering the child inefficient and unhappy. Certainly in mental habits and emotional tendencies "the child is father of the man."

The task of adequately training children in the right habits is of such tremendous magnitude that the responsibility of this great work must be assumed by parents, teachers, general medical practitioners, and the mental hygiene specialists who are eager to act as guides and leaders in this great work.

It won't be long now.

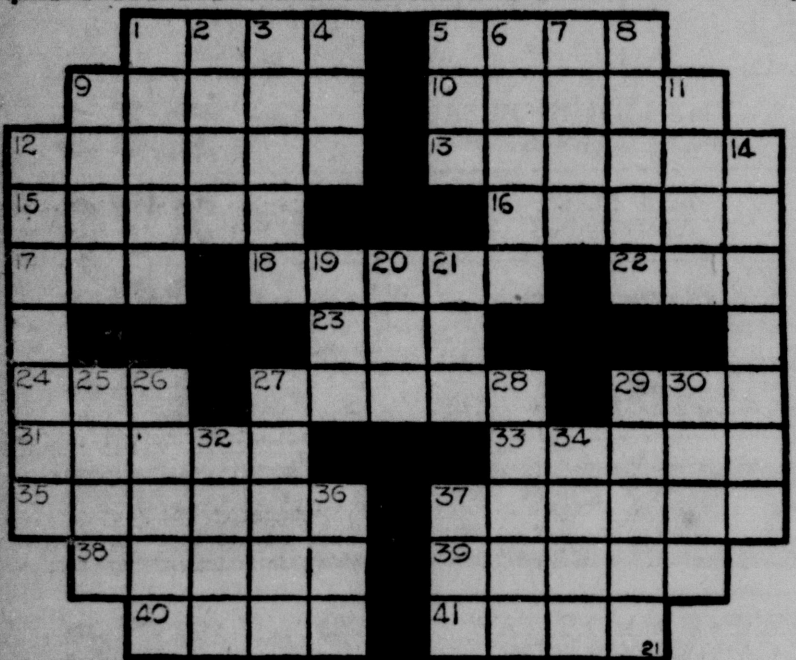

(Copyright, 1930, NEA Service, Inc.)

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

THURSDAY'S CORRECTIONS

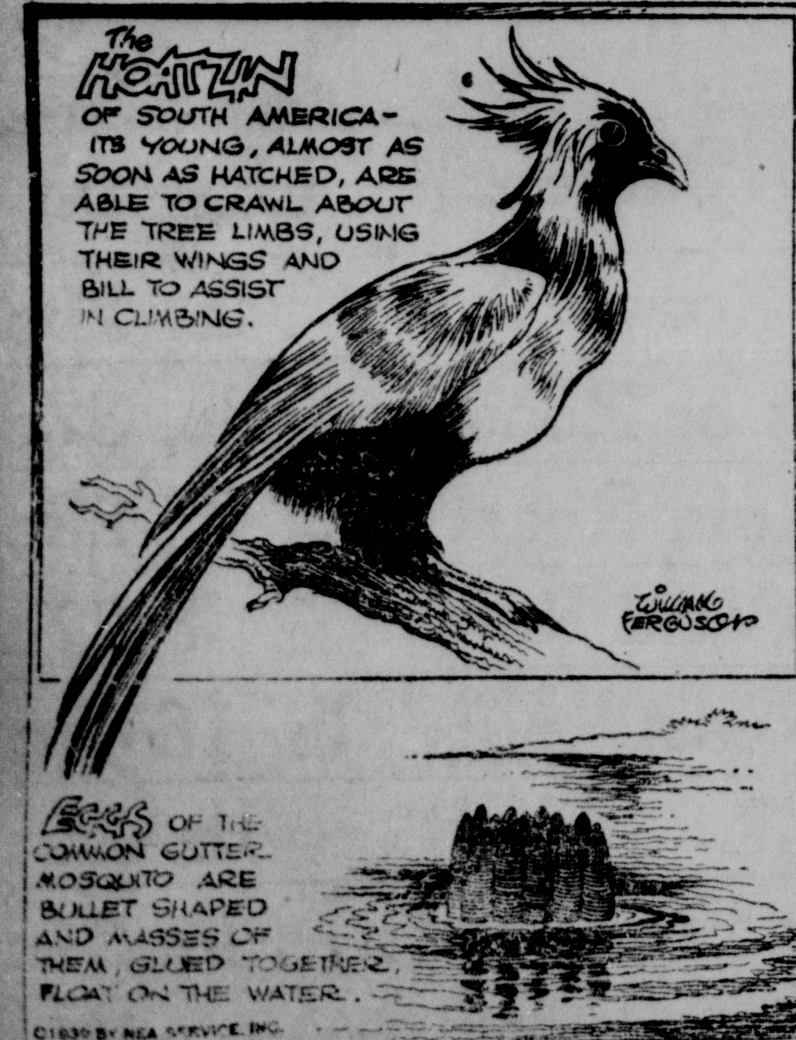

(1) "Mademoiselle" should be applied only to an unmarried woman. (2) The hat the salesgirl holds is not a turban. (3) Turbine, not "turban" is the way to spell the kind that runs by water power. (4) The ornaments at the top of the mirror posts do not match. (5) The scrambled word is ANATOMY.

Murder Backstairs

FICTION

by ANNE AUSTIN

AUTHOR OF "THE AVENGING PARROT" "THE BLACK PIGEON," ETC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DORIS MATTHEWS, lady's maid, is murdered Friday night in a summerhouse on the Berkeley estate, by a blow with a heavy perfume flask, presented to MISS GEORGE BERKELEY, who, the SEA MOIR CROSBY. The body, cold, weighted and tied with CLO RINDA BERKELEY'S scarf, taken from the lake Saturday morning by DETECTIVE DUNDEE, who summons CAPTAIN STRAWN.

UNDER SUSPICION: Mr. and Mrs. George Berkeley, who has quarreled late Friday night over Clorinda's engagement to Croch close friend of the social secretary, MRS. LAMBERT, GIG BERKELEY, who sprinkles everyone Friday evening with perfume from murder flask; DICK BERKELEY, who, after having spent the night as he says, in the tower room, vainly awaiting Doris, turns up while his mother is accusing EUGENE ARNOLD, chauffeur, engaged to Doris, as having murdered both Doris and Dick out of jealousy.

Mrs. Berkeley, after many interviews she slumped Doris about a clock Friday evening; that she later "instructed Doris to wait up for her, but insists Doris was not there when she went up to bed at 11:40. Rugged print of Doris' mouth on bathroom mirror proved she was there late in the evening and that a struggle took place.

Clorinda Berkeley, after 11:45, admits talking with Doris before 11; then stealing out of house for a walk. Insists she did not go near summerhouse, did not hear struggle or screams; cannot account for her scarf being used to bind up body. Says she was alone on walk. Strawn, searching her room for clues, is sniffing her gold evening slippers for odor of perfume from murder flask broken in summerhouse.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXII

"YOU see, Miss Clorinda, one can't think of everything—every little thing!" Captain Strawn sympathized, after he had sniffed the sole of each small golden slipper. "You remembered to wipe off telltale traces of dew and earth from these little shoes of yours, but your nose was so accustomed by that time to the odor of Fleur d'Amour—"

"Maybe you'd better translate it and call it 'Flower of Love'—your French is so bad," Gigi interrupted with hard flippancy, her eyes blazing like an angry cat's.

"That you didn't smell it on the soles as you handled the shoes. But every criminal forgets something," Strawn went on, as if the child had not interrupted.

"I don't know what you're talking about," Clorinda told him tonelessly, but her face was very pale.

"These little shoes tell me a secret, Miss Clorinda. They tell me that you were in the summerhouse, that you stepped into the spilled perfume."

"I've told you already that Gigi splashed the stuff all over us last night," Clorinda countered wearily. "But she didn't sprinkle the floor! A pretty keen eyewitness has already described that scene to me, young lady!"

"Our charming guest, no doubt!" Clorinda shrugged, and Dundee colored painfully.

"Well, let's have a look at the dress and the cape," Strawn said cheerfully.

He found what he was looking for three times, but the spots were all on the bodice. The skirt yielded nothing until the hem itself was passing under his nose.

"Well, I guess that settles it!" he grunted with satisfaction. "The hem of this skirt has been in the summerhouse, Miss, if you haven't! Now for the cape!"

His nose was unrewarded, however, and he was about to toss the gold metal cloth garment aside when Dundee sprang forward.

"I think you've overlooked something, Captain Strawn," he said quietly, pointing to a thin, dark brown, horizontal line halfway down the back of the cape.

"These little shoes tell me a secret, Miss Clorinda. They tell me that you were in the summerhouse."

Strawn uttered a sharp exclamation, then scratched at the dark streak with a fingernail.

"Blood!" he announced triumphantly, his gray eyes boring into the girl who had retreated until she was leaning weakly against the foot of her bed.

"Blood?" she whispered. "I swear I didn't see any blood—I never dreamed—"

"You thought you'd got rid of every trace of Doris Matthews' blood, eh?" Strawn asked grimly. "Pretty hard thing to destroy—blood!"

"Stop! You're going to make her faint!" Gigi commanded.

"I'm all right," Clorinda said dully, but one of her beautiful white hands gripped her little sister's shoulder to steady herself. "Gigi is right. I didn't kill Doris—"

"Then maybe you'll tell us who did, since you were on the scene of the crime last night?" Strawn suggested. "Come now! Who was it? Your brother, Dick?"

"I saw no one kill Doris," Clorinda answered, her voice trembling. "I did not even know she had been killed until Gigi told me this morning. . . . Oh, please give me time! I'll tell you what little I do know. I did go into the summerhouse last night, because I passed near enough to it to get a terribly strong whiff of Fleur d'Amour. At first I thought it was just the perfume on my dress, but another gust of wind brought the smell with such sickening force that I decided to investigate. I entered the summerhouse and saw a big irregular wet spot on the floor, near the circular bench. I stooped to make sure, and found that a lot of perfume had been spilled there. I also saw that whoever had spilled it had tried to wash it up, for the surrounding floor had been swabbed with water, but that was almost dry. I wondered who on earth could have done it, then I thought mother had discovered my absence—"

"And had come looking for you with a flask of perfume in her hand?" Strawn interrupted, with a twisted smile of incredulity.

"I merely told you the truth, which included my own speculation when I found that the perfume had been spilled on the summerhouse floor."

ABE MARTIN

"The Grand Canyon baffles description," said Miss Fawn Lippincott, before the Nature Study Club, last evening, 'an' then ruined the rest o' the evening' describin' it. A farmer is at the mercy of all the elements, droughts, late springs, wet summers, early falls, hail, lightning, frost, not to mention slumps. Even in a fat year when ever'thing is breakin' fine the danger o' bein' gored by an angry bull is allus imminent.
